SPECIAL MEMBERSHIP ISSUE

Presidents Corner

Well girls, We had a good start to the new year. Membership dues are coming in, Wittnie and I addressed the Lambda board again and Jamie has the FTM group on its way. We had meetings at both the "Tea Cup" and "Joseph's" last month and would like feedback from the members about having meetings at both places in the future. Also in addressing the Lambda board we talked to them about having meetings from time to time there so we can have speakers at our meetings. Jamie is having his meetings at the new Lambda center.

As of January 31, the treasury stands at $351.26.

I am still asking for members willing to serve on the board to let us know because the elections are coming up very soon. I have some personal reasons for asking for people willing to serve.

I have been on the board for three years. For most of that three years I have answered the Association telephone, handled the treasury, taken care of correspondence, mailing lists, addressed envelopes, copied and mailed out the newsletters, and handled most of the affairs of the Association. Because I am getting a little burned out on it and the fact that I am involved in some personal things that I would like to devote more of my time to, I have come to the

Binda's Comments

Hi kids. So much to say and so little space. OK fine! But first a word from our sponsor. I need to cover some of the rumors that have cropped up regarding the unfortunate set of circumstances at JTC's. It just so happens that there were two isolated occurrences surrounding the same group of people which, for want of a better term, are called swingers. Because of that groups size and because of the night manager's focus we were moved around so that they could be accommodated. Both groups were close to 25 members strong. Unfortunately it was done so with a great deal of haste, abrasive's (ness) and insensitivity. On another occasion, within that same evening, two of the males of that group saw fit to hassle me a bit as I emerged from the restroom which, because of it's location required that I pass by them. That last was minor in context to itself but major because they were part of the original actions. Actions which had already changed my perception of protection. The prior treatment hinted that they would receive all benefit of any doubt if the situation escalated.

Joseph was alerted to the first after the fact and not witness to the second till Wittnie mentioned it. Giving Joseph the benefit of the doubt Wittnie and I both visited to discuss both occurrences.

Here I am, staring into that glowing light that is my computer monitor. Quarter to 5! In the morning!! Okay, Wittnie, you'd better like this! You too, GENTLE READER! Billie Jean once told me that she wrote her best material when she was half-asleep. Funny, I can't see that for myself. Hell, I can't come up with any coherent thoughts. Oh, I guess that was one. Maybe I should just dump this month's column. Better than reading this tripe with me whining about having to write something. At least I don't have to get up too early... TODAY. It's Sunday, and football is over, so I can sleep in. Don't go to church either - Thank God I'm not religious! Lemesee, is there anything on the upcoming agenda? Oh yeah, the annual SGA board elections are coming up!

Vote for your friends, vote for the people you respect, vote for the ones who know how to have fun dressing up! Just vote! We don't care if it becomes a popularity contest, because these things are immutably that way anyhow, so just pick someone you're chummy with and cast that vote! Be a good citizen of the SGA!!

We went, we munched, we saw, we yakked, we left. That pretty much describes our trip to the Cotillion decision to not run for the board again this year. I will still be quite active in the Association and support it in any way I can but It is about time others got involved in the actual running of the Association. I will still be working with Lambda and the Freedom Fair committee. Maybe in a year or so I would be willing to try a seat on the board again.

We have a lot of members that would be very capable officers, but is the willingness to do so that is important. The only way we will know of that willingness is for those members to come forward and tell us. PLEASE DO SO!!!

GOING'S ON?

WITTNIE'S THOUGHTS

The month of February marks the end of another membership year for the SGA and the change of the Executive board. This is the time of the year when the gavel is passed to a new group of members allowing them to change the direction of the SGA or to further it's efforts.

Members have the chance to voice their rejection or confidence of the current Executive Board.

In last years election, there was a one vote difference between nominated members for the position of President. With a small membership every vote counts. So as a dues paying member let your voice be heard.

SGA EXECUTIVE BOARD

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Chief Executive Officer / President - The President is chief administrator of SGA, and is the one person ultimately responsible for maintaining the operational integrity of SGA. The President's enumerated duties include: 1) chairing Executive Committee meetings, 2) conducting business affairs at membership meetings, 3) ensuring communication among officers of SGA, and, if appropriate, 4) serving as the liaison of SGA with other organizations, 5) appointment of all committee chairs.

Vice President - The Vice President is responsible for: 1) all duties of the President at such times the President is not available, 2) aiding any other office of the Executive Committee in the event such aid is requested and approved, by vote, of the Executive Committee, and 3) Shall direct members and guests to Treasurer for meeting dues and name tags.

Secretary - The Secretary is responsible for: 1) creating and maintaining a mailing list, a membership list, minutes of each Executive Committee meeting, minutes of each membership meeting, and any other records deemed necessary by the Executive Committee, 2) arranging for the writing of, compiling the submissions for and typing the original, of the SGA Newsletter, 3) preparing and submitting to the Treasurer at the end of the fiscal year a proposed secretarial budget for the succeeding fiscal year, 4) conducting the business affairs at a membership meeting following the resignation or absence of both the President and Vice President, and 5) informing the members of the Executive Committee of the date, time, and place of all Executive Committee meetings. In the event that an officer is not elected to the office of Secretary will maintain this post until an officer can be elected.

Treasurer - The Treasurer is responsible for: 1) collecting all annual dues, and meeting dues for social meetings, 2) maintaining a checking, and if appropriate, a savings account for SGA, 3) paying the bills of SGA from SGA funds, 4) preparing and presenting at the Annual Meeting: A) a financial report covering the fiscal year ending prior to the Annual Meeting, and B) a proposed general budget for the fiscal year then beginning, 5) preparing a written financial statement of SGA funds and assets monthly and presenting it to the Executive Committee, 6) preparing a financial report for each issue of the SGA Newsletter, 7) at the time of elections, the Treasurer shall certify the eligibility of nominated officers and voters.

Communications Officer - The Communications Officer, Newsletter Editor, is responsible for the publication and mailing of the newsletter of the SGA and it's activities. The SGA Newsletter shall be published at least six times per year, following the February, April, June, August, October and December membership meetings. There will be no charge for membership receiving the newsletter. The newsletter will contain 1) description, dates, times, and places of forthcoming membership meetings and Executive Committee meetings, 2) minutes of membership and Executive Committee meetings held since the compilation of the previous issue of the newsletter, 3) a financial report, and 4) any other news and information of interest to those on the membership list.

ADDITIONAL APPOINTED POSITIONS

The Executive Board may when necessary and/or appropriate appoint additional members to serve in temporary positions of Security Officer, Education Chairperson, Social Activities Chairperson.

Security Officer - The Security Officer is responsible for 1) maintaining order at both Executive and Membership meetings, 2) insuring harmony at such gatherings by escorting any, and all, persons who display inappropriate behavior out of the meeting, and 3) repeated warnings for misconduct will automatically be brought before the Executive Committee for review of membership termination, 4) the Security Officer shall escort any member to their vehicle if requested. In the event that no officer is elected to this post, the position will be maintained by the Vice President until an officer can be elected to this post Chair of the Education and Outreach Committee - The Chair of the Education and Outreach Committee is responsible for 1) calling and chairing meetings of that committee, 2) encouraging members of SGA to join the committee, 3) serving, when delegated by the Executive Committee, as the liaison of SGA with other organizations, 4) representing on the Executive Committee the full range of views existing on the committee, 5) presenting to the Executive Committee for its approval a description of the proposed activities of the committee, 6) preparing and submitting to the Treasurer at the end of the fiscal year a proposed budget for the committee for the succeeding year, 7) sustaining the vitality of the committee, and 8) conducting educational activities at membership meetings and submitting a report on the committee's activities for each issue of the SGA Newsletter. In the event that no officer is elected to this post, the position will be maintained by the President until an officer can be elected.

Chair of the Social Activities Committee - The Chair of the Social Activities Committee is responsible for 1) calling and chairing meetings of that committee, 2) encouraging members of SGA to join the committee, 3) representing on the Executive Committee the full range of views existing on that committee, 4) preparing and submitting to the Treasurer at the end of the fiscal year a proposed budget for the committee for the succeeding fiscal year, 5) conducting social activities at each membership meeting, 6) preparing for each issue of the SGA Newsletter a description of the social activities which have been approved by the Executive Committee for forthcoming membership meetings, 7) sustaining the vitality of the committee.

We had our third meeting in January at Lambda Center. In attendance, outside of the local members, we had two guys from upper California and Oregon. Through a temporary agreement with the Lambda Center we have obtained a two rooms for our monthly meetings. The two rooms will be available in March for TS and SO family members. Meetings are to be held monthly on the last Saturday of each month along with SGA and other gender groups for social networking and friendship. We are planing many different types of activities, but we need your ideas.

For additional information on meeting times please call JAMI at 854-4942.

this year. Shelby and I went on the 27th of January to San Francisco and attended the annual dress-up party. I wore a long black satin and velvet gown (clearance sale from Simply Tops Mail Order!) while Shelby had on a fancy iridescent navy slip dress. We ran into new SGA member Jennifer who attended with her significant other. Jennifer, ya looked GR8!

Well, the show was okay (the Miss ETVC contest), but it did drag (HA HA) in some spots. Overall, we're glad that we went, since we were able to socialize with a large group of TG people that we rarely see any other time.

Of course, we also wanted to show off our cute new frocks! Next time, we'll spend more time schmoozing with the others, and less time watching the show.

Cindy Martin, the world-famous computer owner-operator of the Transgendered Forum Internet web site, took a picture of me to place in the web site. Was I flattered! However, realizing that I would never win any photogenic awards, I suspect I'm not going to look my best in that shot. I'm one of those types who gains 20 to 30 lbs. on film! Now I'm worried, since that pix is going to be shown around the world. What if it stinks and my new-found "admirer" in Toronto sees it?! Yikes, I may have made a big mistake! I suppose I could always deny it's me...

LAST WORD: Congratulations to our board members Ava, Wittnie, Linda Lee, Bernadette, and Shelby for a job well done during this past year! Membership has grown and the organization has really come onto it's own. And that's no jive, because this is same compliment I hear from the DVG (Diablo Valley Girls - Walnut Creek) and the ETVC (Educational TV Channel - San Francisco) members when I tell them that I'm a proud card-carrying member of the SGA. May this upcoming new fiscal year be just as successful!

LISA

LINDA'S COMMENTS

Two goals were set: One the overall treatment of SGA proper while the other was to address the perceived "new" risk to myself and/or other potential members. To Joseph's credit and to our satisfaction both circumstances were addressed and action taken to insure neither would occur again. In Joseph's favor those actions had been taken prior to our discussions. Joseph does not perceive us as second class customers. In fact I and a number of others in SGA have received somewhat favored status because of our visibility. So I believe it's true when I say that up to that point he has been a very accommodating host and always supportive of us as both individuals and as a group. That incident was unfortunate, atypical and as I've noted addressed to my satisfaction. The same goes for those two (swingers) who took advantage of their favored position and seized the moment. As to that, Joseph did talk with the leaders and received enough assurances that it was isolated and would not happen again. That's the down side of pink vs. booze and excited testes. Anyway, having known Joseph for a number of years now and having participated as a customer in three different establishments I tend to lean in favor of his response and continued efforts to keep our good will. I also feel that a large majority of people who walk into JTC's do so with every intent to enjoy themselves.

There are always going to be situations created by our shear size and of course our visibility in the general context of so called "alternate lifestyles". There are also a number of us, who by our very nature in representation, draws more attention than would occur from less flamboyant (me) or alternate forms. Considering those variables and considering the number of times I've been out mixing with the general public two incidents in four years is hardly a cause for concern. However it doesn't mean we should take that kind of treatment and we won't! Hence the reason we addressed those two cases with Joseph at our earliest convenience. That conversation with Joseph did a number of things the least of which reaffirmed that JTC's and Joseph personally both supports us as one of his contributing groups and respects us as customers. That's also evident with his staff on a routine basis. So if we look at this as just a SNAFU and that I was simply the brunt of someone's envy of me in a dress. Bottom line! It's way past. See you there.

This year we can expect some changes in the Board. Ava wishes to retire for the 1996 membership year. Shelby would like to step down and Chair the Outreach Committee if nominated. Bernadette has made no decision. Linda Lee has moved to Sacramento and is willing to participate again as Board Member. As for me, I would like to also take a little rest from the newsletter. Anyone with a computer and ink jet or laser printer is welcome to have the program used to produce the newsletter. I would still like to serve the SGA in another position on the Executive Board.

Any interested member may run for a Board position. All that need be done is to complete the NOMINATION TO EXECUTIVE BOARD application and give it to Ava for listing on the ballot, voted on in March.
